

Invertebrate study

On the first day we set traps by digging a hole in the ground. Then we put a plastic pitfall cup in the hole. We put four small twigs in the ground, then we put four leaves so the pitfall traps were camouflaged. The next day we looked, identified and sorted the invertebrates into groups which were herbivores, carnivores and scavengers.

By Frankie

